

Error bars are strength-condition central 90% ranges, not confidence intervals. The auxiliary three-class model is shown separately and is not the main binary model.